

Faculty of DENTISTRY

The Faculty of Dentistry at Lincoln University College is the premier dental school in the world and the only institution that provides undergraduate and postgraduate dental degrees. The Faculty of Dentistry is a professional body committed to enabling dental surgeons to accomplish and maintain excellence in procedure and patient care. The Faculty delivers education, recognition of programmes and quality confidence through assessment of postgraduate dental professionals internationally. It also provides lecture-based and hands-on courses for dentists wishing to update their knowledge and aggressively pursue additional postgraduate qualifications. The commitment of the faculty, staff and alumni has helped certify the continuing quality and prestige of the Faculty of Dentistry.
